Sod-turning Oct. 24

The news area residents have been waiting for for years has finally arrived.

Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board Executive Director Foster Loucks has confirmed that groundbreaking ceremonies for the health services capital projects in Minden and Haliburton will take place on October 24. Minister of Health Jim Wilson will be the guest of honour as the sod is officially turned to launch the building process.

While the shovelful of dirt will be a symbolic act, it will confirm the Ministry of Health's commitment to fund the projects. In Minden, the work calls for the relocation of the Minden Hospital to the Hyland Crest site, with access off Deep Bay Road and the complete renovation of the Hyland Crest 62 bed long-term care facility to bring it up to today's standards. In Haliburton, it means the addition of 30 long-term care beds, three more acute care beds to the hospital and the necessary renovations to the existing building to accommodate the services required to support the facility.

Total cost of the entire project has been set at $10,600,000 by the Ministry of Health, with the province contributing just over $6 million and the community expected to provide $4 million. (See page 4 for a report on the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation and the fund-raising the organization will be starting soon.)

Running for Terry

135 participants remembered Terry Fox Sunday in Minden raising approximately $5000 for cancer research. Participants jogged, walked, roller-bladed and cycled, carrying with them pledges gathered from the community. It was a great day for the fund-raising event, with cooler temperatures early in the morning giving way to sunny skies. Run coordinator Jerry Grozelle said he was very pleased with the turn-out and the enthusiastic response of the many volunteers who helped organize the day. The Minden run was one of more than a thousand taking place around the world. Syd Adamson turned in the highest amount in pledges at $408.

Galway voters want amalgamation options on ballot

by Jerry Grozelle

Voters in the Galway-Cavendish-Harvey municipal election may have the opportunity to express their opinions regarding whether or not they would prefer to become a part of Haliburton County or to remain with Peterborough County, during the coming municipal election.

That part of the vote, if it is approved, will be considered an opinion poll, which is not binding.

The motion, proposed by Bob Mitchell and seconded by Chris McTaggart, requests Galway-Cavendish council to have a section on the November 10 municipal election ballot which indicates a choice of Peterborough or Haliburton County, to be recorded by individual polling stations. It will not be a binding vote, but will serve as information.

The cancellation of the proposed referendum has angered many Galway Township residents. The question of legality with regard to the use of the word "referendum", the distribution of the ballots and other factors, ultimately led to the cancellation. About a quarter of the ballots had been returned when the referendum was cancelled, but none was opened.

The municipality will send out notices to all ratepayers advising of the cancellation. It was proposed in a second motion, by Bruce Fleury and seconded by Mike Grozelle, at the Galway Ratepayers Association general meeting, that a notice be distributed with that mailing advising that the opinion poll will be on the municipal election ballot.

At the GRA meeting, Peter Charters explained the process which has taken place, since the winter and spring of this year, to amalgamate Galway and Cavendish with Haliburton County. He noted that since the so-called referendum was intended as an indicator of the ratepayers' wishes only, he saw no reason why it shouldn't have gone ahead as planned.

Charters said the questions that begged to be answered were "why did the process fail so badly; what do we do now; and where do we go from here?"

Charters asked the audience for suggestions.

Don LaCombe, chairperson of the Galway Ratepayers Association, said the people who worked so hard to organize the referendum proposal "feel cheated" because it was cancelled. He said that about $4,000 was spent producing and distributing the ballots.

"It was heart-breaking to see them go through the shredder, unopened" he said.

The question on most of the attendees' minds, as evidenced by the reaction of the crowd, was "Are we going to continue with negotiations to amalgamate with Haliburton County?"

The response was a resounding yes.

"We have to study all the options," Charters said. "We need your ideas and your input to do something constructive."

Merger with Durham DHC may not be final

The merger of the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Council with Durham DHC may not be a done deal.

Victoria/Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson has suggested there is a possibility that the announced policy change could be reversed or modified.

"I think we can solve this," the MPP said Monday afternoon after speaking with fellow MPPs throughout the district. Hodgson said there was a 30 day period to respond following the announcement. During that time the ministry will be accepting comments from individuals and organizations affected by the change.

Since the merger was announced by the government on September 4, the local District Health Council has been fighting the move claiming the Durham Region and the Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District have little in common. (The council's points are spelled out in a press release which appears on page 7 of this week's newspaper.)

The main thrust of the DHC's objection to the merger is that the strong Toronto orientation of the Durham district does not match well with the more rural HKPR situation. Concern was also expressed over the many efforts currently underway to integrate health service delivery across the district and how it might be affected by being absorbed into the region to the west.

Hodgson, who has taken a keen interest in the development of health care services throughout the area and Haliburton County in particular, likened the situation to the announced withdrawal of OPP services from Haliburton County. Noting the police service will soon return to full operation in the area, he suggested that the same might occur with the health council. "We can work this out," he told The Times.

In the meantime, the district health council is continuing its lobbying effort against the merger. "We feel it is our responsibility to the people of our district," DHC chair Doris Brick said. "We are pleased to have the local MPPs looking into it and hope they can help to reverse this decision."

Durham also opposes merger

Meanwhile, the Chair of the Durham District Health Council appears to be unhappy with the merger as well. Ray Kearns has expressed his dismay at the pairing. "Many segments of the health system are being restructured, and we are not at all opposed to restructuring DHCs. However, we had hoped that Durham's location as part of the Greater Toronto Area would be recognized and respected," Kearns said. He noted that the Health Services Restructuring Commission is currently reviewing the GTA/905 area as a single unit. "The decision by the Ministry of Health to link Durham with HKPR is contrary to this and other planning that is taking place for the GTA."

Kearns went on to note that restructuring was to be based on referral patterns, population and geography. "There are significantly different planning issues between the two areas because of different referral patterns and demographics. We have to plan for Durham as a high growth area with a significant number of young families," he commented.

The DHC chair said he would be discussing the decision with local MPPs.

Tory Hill drug raid

Two Tory Hill residents have been arrested and charged with several drug and firearms related offenses.

The Central Region Drug unit, along with the Lindsay OPP Crime Unit and the Minden/Coboconk OPP, executed a search warrant on a Haliburton County residence on September 7. As a result, Marjorie Warsh, 38 and Andrezej Wisniewski, 43 were charged with possession of a controlled substance for the purpose of trafficking; production of a controlled substance (marijuana) and unsafe storage of firearms.

Numerous marijuana plants, magic mushrooms and guns were seized.

The investigation is continuing.

Charges laid after high speed chase

A 16 year-old Norland youth has been charged with two counts of theft over $5,000, two counts of possession of stolen property over $5,000, dangerous driving, failing to stop for police and breach of probation.

Police report that a 1988 Pontiac Grand Am was stolen from Fenelon Falls some time after 9 a.m. September 10. The car was abandoned in the village of Glenarm, about 10 kilometres away, at about 11:45 a.m. the same day. At about the same time a Glenarm resident observed her 1991 Plymouth van being stolen from the driveway. The police were contacted and the van was observed eastbound on Highway 48 at 11:55 a.m.

The stolen van was pursued by Coboconk Detachment officers at speeds reaching 140 kilometres per hour. The pursuit led to the village of Coboconk, where the stolen van was in collision with another OPP cruiser, which was assisting the pursuing officers, on North Water Street.

The stolen vehicle continued on to Highway 35 at the south limits of Coboconk, where the two occupants fled on foot. The driver was arrested after a short foot chase. The passenger escaped from the scene.

The passenger is described as a young male 5 foot 8 inches tall, weighing about 150 pounds. He has medium length light brown hair. He was wearing a black jacket with green on the back, similar to a Nike or Adidas style jacket.

No injuries resulted from the collision. Damage to the cruiser is estimated at $4,000 and damage to the stolen van was also estimated at $4,000.

Pair escapes injury as plane flips on beach

Reports may have stated there were only two people in the airplane when it crashed on the shore of Kennisis Lake last Monday afternoon: the pilot, famous Canadian music star Tom Cochrane and Haliburton Re/Max real estate agent Gloria Carnochan, but Gloria feels sure there was someone else with them. "There was a guardian angel riding with us, I'm convinced of that," she told reporters Tuesday as she examined the overturned wreckage of the Cessna 185.

Judging by the crumpled condition of the aircraft, it is hard to argue with her suggestion that someone or something reached out to protect her and the pilot as they came in for a landing on the lake.

The day began innocently enough with a call from her real estate office in Haliburton asking if she would be willing to accompany a prospective buyer on a flying tour of cottage sites in the northern Highlands. Gloria, who operated the Kennisis Lake Marina for a number of years and whose real estate office is located near Kennisis Lake agreed to accompany the client.

He introduced himself when they met a short time later. "I must admit, I didn't know this Tom Cochrane was someone famous. He said his name, and, I guess not seeing any indication of recognition, added that he was the singer," Gloria recalls.

A short time later they were flying over area lakes looking at various properties that were on the market. After finishing the inspection tour they returned to Kennisis Lake.

As they came in to touch down, a boat suddenly appeared in their path. Cochrane attempted to avoid the craft and as a result found himself too close to shore to bring the plane to a halt in the water.

"Basically, he ran out of lake," Gloria said, standing on the sand beach next to Windermere Cottage Resort looking at the marks left behind by the pontoons. The plane skidded up into the sand and just before hitting the trees which lined the edge of the beach, it flipped over landing on its back.

Gloria described the flip as seeming to have taken place in slow motion. The plane had run out of most of its forward momentum but there was still enough force to flip it over on its back. The fact that they were wearing complete harnesses rather than just a traditional lap belt probably helped to reduce the injuries.

Gloria Carnochan examines the plane in which she was a passenger last Monday. The plane, piloted by Tom Cochrane, flipped over after skidding up onto the shore of Kennisis Lake. Carnochan and Cochrane were not seriously injured in the mishap.

The two scrambled out of the plane unhurt and sought help from the nearby marina to contain the fuel that was leaking from the overturned aircraft.

The aircraft sustained major structural damage including bent wings and wing supports and a broken windshield. As well, the propeller was mangled in the roll-over.

The day after the accident, Gloria said that, other than for a few minor bruises, she felt fine.

Asked if she would take to the air again, she said, "Without hesitation. I would be happy to go up with him again. He was a conscientious flyer who had been very careful throughout the flight. I would have no problem flying with him again."

Gloria sounds so certain it is almost as if she knows that there will always be a third passenger anytime she goes flying with Tom Cochrane.

Home schoolers object to tone of board's notice

A notice appearing in the September 2 edition of The Times has drawn the ire of area parents.

The notice, placed by the Haliburton County Board of Education, advised parents who are planning to teach their children at home that they must register with the Board of education by September 15. The notice said those failing to register would be in violation of the Education Act and could be subject to the penalties proscribed in the act, if found guilty.

Objections to the ad came from a number of sources. The Times was contacted by Jean Geyer of the Ontario Christian Home Education Association, September 6, expressing concern about the notice. She said she had been contacted by a number of parents in the area concerned about the implications of the notice. Geyer, and several parents who asked not to be identified, asked that we contact the Home School Legal Defense Association for further clarification. The Alberta-based organization has been defending parents who have faced challenges from boards of education regarding home schooling.

A spokesman for the group, lawyer Dallas Miller, said the tone of the notice was offensive to anyone who intended to home school. He said the suggestion that the board "must" approve a home schooling situation is "inaccurate".

"From the tone of the ad the board comes across sounding like it knows what is best for the children. Our position is that it is the parents who know best," the lawyer commented.

Ready to pop the question. Health Services Foundation will soon be asking you for money

Dale Walker is excited.

She is the head of the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Foundation, the group that will over-see the fund raising for the new capital construction of the health facilities in Minden and Haliburton.

Her excitement stems from a number of sources. The latest was the confirmation last week that October 24 has been set as the date for the official sod-turning at the two locations. The fact that a date has been set and the Minister of Health will officiate means the planning which the 11 member board has been doing since last year can now move into high gear.

"We didn't want to launch a public fund raising campaign until construction was started," she said in a recent interview in her office at Parklane Apartments in Haliburton. Noting the history of health care construction in the Highlands is littered with a number of false starts, she said the board didn't want to begin the fund raising process without the assurance that the projects would proceed.

While the delay has given the new board, which was incorporated in late 1996 and received its charitable status just this past spring, some time to meet and get to know each other, it also means that the summer, prime fund-raising time, has now slipped by. However, since it will take more than a year to see the construction through to completion, there will be plenty of time to ensure all property owners in the Highlands are given an opportunity to contribute to the project.

Dale is also excited because of the quality and enthusiasm of the members who have agreed to be a part of the Foundation's board of directors. Joining her at the foundation board table are vice chair Ray Selbie, secretary Rheta Jones, treasurer Mary Coneybeare and directors Shawn Hagerman, Don Hall, Dwayne Lloyd, Bill McAfee, Gord Monk, Hugh Nichol and Don Popple. She stated that while the board attempted to achieve a balance of representation from throughout the health service area, there are a number of areas, notably the east portion of the Haliburton County and northern Victoria County, which are not represented on the board. "We have a good group of individuals dedicated to the health care for the entire region," she noted.

While for most members of the Foundation this is a totally new exercise, that hasn't dampened their enthusiasm or commitment to the effort.

The Foundation has yet to launch a formal fund raising drive, but it already has received over $45,000 in donations for the capital projects. "The largest was a $30,000 donation which came from an estate," Walker explained. "The remainder has come from in memoriam donations received through area funeral homes and other individual donations which, now that the projects are getting closer to being started, are beginning to come in."

There are several other sources of funding the Foundation is looking to tap. The first are the numerous commitments made by organizations and groups over the years. As the plans for the capital projects became firmer, various groups, like community service clubs, made commitments to the project. According to Walker's calculations these commitments amount to $567,000.

"We have been contacting these groups in the past few weeks reminding them of their commitments and suggesting they may wish to be a part of the excitement around the sod-turning ceremonies and use the opportunity to complete their promises."

Walker said the foundation is hoping these service groups will continue to assist in the fund-raising efforts. "They all have innovative ways of raising money and hopefully they will continue to keep this project in mind in the coming year," she said.

The Foundation has also received $763,000 from the St. Joseph's Foundation in Peterborough. This amount represents, in large part, money donated (and subsequent interest) in the mid 1980's to fund the addition of chronic care beds to the Haliburton Hospital. Some $450,000 was raised at that time and has been held in trust by the St. Joseph's Foundation. The 1980's project was placed on hold by the provincial Ministry of Health just as it was about to begin, and was later cancelled.

A portion of the money transferred from St. Joseph's also represents donations made for equipment purchases at both Minden and Haliburton Hospitals. Walker said the foundation would respect the intention for which equipment donations were made and allocate the money to the institution for which it was given. She noted there are also capital donations which have been targeted to the facility in one community or the other and these wishes will be honoured as well.

However, she pointed out that the board considers $10.4 million capital expenditure which the province has approved for the Haliburton Highlands Health Services to be one project and new donations will be flowed to the project as a whole. "We are creating one health services system for the entire area and we believe the money should be spent where it is needed," she said.

The Foundation has identified three goals for its initial fund raising efforts:

- the community's share of the capital cost of constructing and equipping the projects at Hyland Crest and the Haliburton Hospital and renovations which may be needed to existing building to accommodate these changes.
- a fund to support education and training for medical staff in the HHHS area.
- a fund for one-time programs for the public (for example: a diabetes education program)

"Our top priority is the capital works project, of course," Walker remarked. "This is where we will concentrate our efforts."

Once the capital project has been completed the foundation will continue as a fund-raising arm of the Health Services Board. It will also oversee the management of funds entrusted to it. For the immediate future, however, it is expected that any money received will be needed to meet the community's $4 million portion of the project.

With the announcement last week that a firm date has been set for the sod-turning Walker's excitement level was cranked up yet another notch. "This project is so important for our communities," she said. "Look around the province. Everywhere hospitals seem to be closing and yet here we are getting two new and updated facilities."

So the community can expect to see a lot of Dale Walker and members of her board in the next little while as they share the excitement, which has been building within the group with the community as a whole. "We're ready to go!"

(As Chair of the Foundation, Dale Walker is willing to speak to organizations and groups. She can be reached at 457-3973 or 457-9119 or 457-3134.)

Dancing on quicksand

Anyone considering municipal office this coming November should spend some time waltzing on quicksand while wearing snowshoes. The skill required to stay afloat on the semi-liquid topography will be similar to that needed by politicians in the ever-changing world of municipal government.

Not only will the new councillors be confronted by the traditional litany of interests from their electors: lower taxes; more services; less regulation; etcetera; but they will also be bombarded by a barrage of new regulations, responsibilities and the frustration of reference points that are constantly in flux. Those who understand what the true impact of the changes the provincial government has implemented, say it is only in the coming year(s) that municipal governments will realize what dramatic affects they will have on the operation of local government. While belt-tightening may have sufficed during the past few years, there are precious few places left from which to find or even trim fat.

Individuals elected to municipal office will soon learn what terms like downloading, community partners and revenue neutral really mean and how their area of responsibility has broadened so dramatically but remains so stiflingly constrained. They will discover that their constituents will be looking to them for solutions to problems they have not created, asked for nor anticipated.

The coming term will be a challenging three years when we will need innovative problem solving to provide a semblance of order in our communities.

So start the music--strap on the snowshoes. The time has come for those who think they have the solutions to step forward and take their turn on the dance floor. We welcome them and wish them luck.

Making the playing field level

Editor:

In reply to the letter which appeared in last week's newspaper regarding the use of the 1-800 number of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce, I just wish to apprise Mr. Brandon and others who may have concern with the Chamber's position with the following:

In late 1996, being fiscally responsible, the Board of Directors passed a motion that all events wishing to use our 1-800 number in their advertising, for whatever purpose, had to become a member of the Chamber of Commerce. At that point in time, The Minden Home and Garden Tour, the Eagle Lake Rhubarb Festival and Maplefest were members. The Timbersport Festival, being a subcommittee of Anson, Hindon and Minden council, came under the township's membership. Through this motion, we wanted to make it a level playing field for all concerned.

As we have already placed your event in the Ministry of Economic Development, Trade and Tourism 1998 publication and have had it registered with Travelinx and 1-800 Ontario, both owned by Bell Global Solutions, the interested members of the public can still call our office. We will still provide the best service possible for your event. Local businesses will not suffer. But all we wanted to do was make a level playing field for all events.

Mr. Brandon, I hope you present to your group the proposal that I made to you in my office last week. But please keep in mind, the front door is always open and a handshake of welcome is always there for the Minden Sled Dog Derby to join the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce.

Brian Dean,
General Manager.

Five or one?

Editor:

It seems the only way George Simmons can get the attention he craves is to try and force his version of Haliburton on the rest of us. Since when does he know our Tory masters want five townships for the November election? I thought they only wanted one.

Bill Valentine,
Lutterworth.

The Health Council makes its case

(The following is a press release issued by the Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Council after the province announced its intention to merge the local council with Durham DHC.)

The Haliburton, Kawartha, Pine Ridge District Health Council is very concerned about the government's plan to merge this district with Durham Region. Doris Brick, the incoming chair of the council said, "This planned merger fails to recognize the unique demographics and geography of The Haliburton, Kawartha Pine Ridge District Health Council (HKPR). The four counties we serve are mainly rural and have little in common with the Greater Toronto Area."

The HKPR District Health Council, which serves Haliburton, Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland counties has worked very hard in collaboration with its many partners to help build a health system which reflects real, local needs and aspirations. If this Region is to be merged into Durham Region, the needs of our very large rural district will not be highlighted within the GTA-focused planning process," Doris Brick said.

"Our immediate concern is the future of the hospitals--we have not heard from the Health Services Restructuring Commission about Peterborough's hospital and its role as a regional hospital," she said. Merging with the Greater Toronto Area will eliminate any chance of building a district-wide hospital system which has the resources to meet local needs. Many more people will have to travel to the GTA for medical services at a time when access to GTA hospitals is already being reduced and its population is growing rapidly.

Council has met with officials at the local and provincial levels in order to find a way to see this recommendation changed. Council's first concern will be to gain recognition of the unique nature, culture, demographics and community-spirited partnerships that exist in this area so that provincial decision-makers avoid a potentially harmful decision about the future of health planning in the Haliburton, Kawartha and Pine Ridge District.

HKPR fact sheet

Durham Region is part of the GTA, has over half a million residents and is growing fast. It is among the wealthiest communities in Ontario and Canada located on the on the 401 corridor with its focus westward toward Toronto.

Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge has approximately 300,000 residents, over half of whom are rural, with a north-south orientation from the Lake Ontario shoreline to Algonquin Park and eastward to Kingston. This area has very large retirement, agricultural, and tourism sectors. It has some of the poorest communities, some of the richest natural resources in Ontario and has nothing in common with Durham Region.

Consider these HKPR points:

- four counties: Haliburton, Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland.
- 300,000 people living in 13,300 square kilometres, or 60% of the Central East Region's land mass.
- currently the seventh largest district health council in geographic terms in Ontario.
- twelfth largest district health council in population terms in Ontario.
- much older average population than Durham's
- much higher poverty rate
- much lower average household income than Durham's

- the seasonal population increase can be anywhere from 15% to 240% depending on location in the district.

- the economic base is mostly agriculture including forestry, logging, tourism and recreational services and some secondary industries.

Our Service and access profile

- HKPR faces the same challenges as those experienced in northern Ontario: long distances; remote communities; lack of services; weather and terrain are factors year-round; serious transportation gaps; many communities without 911; no emergency services in the interior during winter recreational season.

- historically underfunded relative to the rest of Ontario in addictions treatment, mental health, cancer rehabilitation, primary care, children's services, diagnostic services, therapeutic services and long-term care.

HKPR planning capability

- in HKPR, the government currently spends about $1 per person per year for the District Health Council to plan the district's health care system which receives approximately $350 million each year.

- for over 20 years, the DHC has built partnerships involving thousands of area residents.

- currently, through a variety of programs and committees, over 6000 volunteers across the district are assisting to shape the future of the health care system in the area.

- the DHC is addressing many major local health issues including: acute care; mental health services; more suicides; catheterization laboratory; MRI and CAT scans; children's services; addictions; problem gambling; and long term care.

Not an elephant among them

Are you one of those folks who doesn't feel comfortable in social gatherings? No good at small talk? Just can't seem to get the hang of breaking the ice with strangers and developing profound, meaningful relationships?

Well have you ever considered getting yourself buck-naked and painting yourself like a zebra?

Don't laugh. It works for Bruno Beloff. Bruno's a 27-year-old British computer consultant. In his spare time, he shucks his duds and covers himself in black and white stripes and goes out and mingles. He's been doing it for seven years. Ever since he encountered his first live zebra herd on a trip to Africa.

"It was fantastic," says Bruno. "There is something so self-reliant about a herd of Zebras...what impertinence! It was inspiring."

You've got to admit, Bruno's got a point. There is something defiant about a zebra. Most animals slink around in mousy brown and great camouflage suits trying to blend into the landscape. And the Zebra? The zebra puts on his best formal bib and tucker, sashays out on the runway and says, "Catch me if you can, sucker!"

Whatever the zebras' motivation, they captured Bruno Beloff's heart. He can't wait to get home from work, get skinny, paint himself up and hit the party circuit.

Bruno was understandably a little skittish at first. He'd visit the largely deserted beaches of Norfolk, or paw at the heather in remote corners of Scotland, unwilling to get really convivial. But he's grown bolder of late. Nowadays he shows up in busy pubs and even canters down the crowded streets of his home town of Brighton.

And how do the people react? Well, how would you react if you saw a naked man painted like a zebra strolling down the street? People don't know quite how to react. But so far, no one's called the police. Or tried to throw a saddle on him.

"On the whole, the public is really positive and open, even in London," reports Bruno. "I've been stunned on occasion by cheers and applause from the most unlikely onlookers. No one has ever got angry with me, not once."

"Besides," says Bruno, "people in England go out of their way to avoid other people--but not zebras."

It is no whimsical, spur-of-the-moment fashion impulse that Bruno's obeying. The special body paint required costs Bruno $300 per application, and the transformation from Homo Sapiens to zebra takes a full three hours during which the zebra--er, Bruno--has to remain perfectly still. To avoid smudging.

Luckily Bruno has an understanding artist friend who has agreed to apply the stripes for free.

But you have to wonder, if Bruno has this ...thing... about zebras, why doesn't he just dress up (or down) in the privacy of his own bedroom?

"It doesn't mean anything to be a zebra by yourself," he says. "For me this only makes sense if people have a chance to react to me."

And does he ever get lonesome? Pine for the company of his own....kind? You bet. That's why this summer Bruno The Zebra Beloff plans to appear as part of a large herd of zebra wannabes, probably in a pasture near Glastonbury.

Bruno may be just a zebra ahead of his time. There is an Internet newsgroup called 'Pet Server' which caters to folks who like to pretend to be animals--dogs, cats, horses. There is even a guy by the name of Malcolm McKee in Liverpool (another computer consultant, suspiciously enough) who dresses up in a 20 pound fake fur suit to become Shep the Old English Sheep Dog.

So whaddya think? Is it catching? Will we one day soon see naked Canucks running around as zebras, pigs and/or Old English Sheepdogs? I can't say for sure. But if fate should bring you to Vancouver some day and you're walking down Granville Avenue and you behold a bald, chubby guy, naked as a jaybird except for some zebra racing stripes galloping toward you, I want you to know....

It won't be me.

New report cards will deliver clear message to parents

One of the best ways to measure how our kids are doing in school is to set clear and concise standards.

Parents need report cards that are written in plain English and spell out exactly how well the student is doing. The report card should also tell you how your child's performance measures against other students in the same grade.

Ontario's new standardized report cards for elementary schools will help us hit those benchmarks.

The new report cards are being phased in during this school year and will be used in some Victoria-Haliburton classrooms this year. By next year, all elementary schools in Ontario will be using the new report cards.

The standardized report cards use letter grades: A, B, C, D and R (for remedial) to measure students in Grades 1 to 6. For students in Grades 7 and 8, percentage grades will be used in four categories from 50 per cent to 100 per cent. There will also be a level of below 50 per cent, which means a student requires extensive support.

The report card will also indicate what the average marks are in the student's grade. As well, there will be a separate section that provides an assessment of a student's overall learning skills, including how well a student works independently, applies problem-solving skills, and participates in class.

The report cards will be issued three times a year, and match Ontario's new provincial curriculum, which ensures the material being taught to our kids is the same in every school in the province.

A new standard report card for high-school students is also being developed. Those report cards will be ready in 1999 when the province's new common curriculum for high schools begins.

We probably all agree that setting tough standards for our students and working to ensure they can meet those standards will benefit all of us in the long run.

In future columns, I will look at other education reforms that will help our kids. In the meantime, I encourage all parents to continue taking an active interest in our children's education. Our children are our future, and they deserve the best opportunities available.

Water quality & quantity OK, approvals granted HHOA hatchery gets 27,000 rainbow trout

by Jerry Grozelle

The fish have finally arrived at the Haliburton Highlands Outdoors Association's hatchery. A total of 27,000 rainbow trout have taken up temporary residence at the facility. The fish were transported from the Ministry of Natural Resources' hatchery at White Lake on September 10.

The project was delayed for several months while Ministry of Environment permits were obtained and the quality and quantity of water could be tested.

About 3,500 of the four to six inch fish were placed in a tank at the facility and the rest were placed into a holding pond at the hatchery on County Road 1, west of Haliburton. The 3,500 fish were being kept in the tank until after the HHOA's Annual Meeting, which was held at the Dysart Community Centre yesterday (September 14), allowing members and guests the opportunity to see the fish and to inspect the facility after the meeting. Then they will also be put into the pond.

The rainbow eggs were collected from Ganaraska River fish during the spawning run and hatched at the White Lake facility.

"We had to prove that the water would remain cold enough before we could get the fish," said HHOA vice-president Larry Hewitt, who is chairperson of the Hatchery Program. "Next year we will get the fish during the first part of June."

Hewitt said he expects to get the same number of fish in 1998.

The fish will be raised at the HHOA hatchery until next April, soon after the ice is out of the lakes, when they will be stocked into Haliburton County lakes and streams. Some of the trout may also be stocked in neighbouring counties, but the majority will remain in Haliburton.

In January of 1998, the HHOA hatchery will receive some lake trout from the ministry hatchery in North Bay. They will be kept in the five indoor tanks until the ice comes off the lakes, when they will be stocked in Haliburton County lakes to enhance the put-and-take fishery.

The HHOA hatchery project may serve as a pilot project for other co-operative partnerships between the Ministry of Natural Resources and similar outdoors clubs throughout the province.

HHOA members have volunteered their time to maintain the facility and make sure the fish are fed at the proper times. More volunteers are welcome. Anyone interested in assisting with this project should contact Heidi Williams, a fisheries consultant who is assisting with the program. Her telephone number is 286-6759.

The club would welcome a few more volunteers who would be willing to act as directors, he added.

Sitting on the executive, along with Perreault, are vice-president Sue Ripley, secretary Liz Lyddiatt, treasurer Dorian Malloy and past president Lesley Lumley.

Shirley Perreault and Bruce Turner are directors. Shirley Perreault is also the test chairperson.

Paul Perreault said he would like to see a senior and adult section added to the club. He would also

1st HHSS Terry Fox Run raises $5,000 for cancer research

Students and teachers from Haliburton Highlands Secondary School raised an estimated $5,000 for the Terry Fox Foundation for cancer research. The high school held a Terry Fox Run on Friday, September 12, two days before the official day of the event in which hundreds of similar runs were conducted across the province.

The Hal High Terry Fox Run was in memory of teacher Jean Levis, who died of cancer before the end of the school year this spring.

The event was organized by teacher Bruce Griffith, with 176 participants running, jogging and walking the course around Head Lake.

Dawn Mitchell, raised the most in pledges, with more than $300. Dawn's sister Lisa, a Grade 9 student at HHSS, has cancer. Unfortunately, Dawn was unable to run because of an illness, so the girls' mother Kathy did the run in Dawn's place.

JEAN LEVIS MEMORIAL: Haliburton Highlands Secondary School's first Terry Fox Run, held September 12, was dedicated to the memory of teacher Jean Levis, who died of cancer earlier this year. A total of 176 participants ran, jogged or walked around Head Lake, raising an estimated $5,000 for cancer research.

New bowlers still welcome*Bob Bullen rolls 320 single

by Maurice Boyd

Are you new to the community? Want to make new acquaintances? Need more exercise? Come out and bowl at County Bowling Centre in Minden. It is located at the Westside Jug City building on Highway 35. The centre's main entrance is at the rear of the building, where there is ample parking.

The leagues are just starting their 1997-98 season and I am sure you can find a league time that will work into your daily schedule. There are afternoon and evening leagues for all ages. Saturday mornings the youth bowling, under the YBC (Youth Bowling Council) banner, takes place.

All league bowlers become members of the Ontario 5 Pin Bowlers' Association and receive a membership card giving them three free games of bowling in any centre in Ontario affiliated with the association. They are also eligible for awards for outstanding bowling accomplishments.

The first over 300 game this season was rolled by Jim Mickle. Congratulations Jim.

Dennis Cox, a 13 year-old, has started his season off with an outstanding triple score of 702.

Note to all league presidents or secretaries: If you have anything you feel would be of interest to all bowlers, please contact your association public relations officer Maurice Boyd at 286-3714 or drop it off in writing at the Bowling Centre office.

House resumes sitting next Monday

In this the first column since being re-elected on June 2, 1997. I would like to thank you for your support and confidence as we prepare for the 21st century. It means a great deal to have the honour

Ottawa report

by John O'Reilly, MP

to represent you in the 36th Parliament. While the 35th Parliament was a very successful term, there is still much to be accomplished.

The summer provided Member's of Parliament time to prepare for the Fall term. I used some of this time to re-locate our constituency office. Our new office is located in the Kent Place Mall, Suite 200, in Lindsay.

The summer also gave me a chance to meet with many people in Victoria-Haliburton. One area which I will continue to do is attend as many functions as possible in which I am asked to attend. Not only do I want to be there and represent the Federal government but it also gives me a chance to speak with people one on one who do not always get a chance to meet the Member of Parliament.

The Prime Minister has chosen his cabinet and parliamentary secretaries. These individuals have spent the summer studying and reviewing their portfolios. I look forward to working with these people to assist the constituents in Victoria-Haliburton to the best of my ability.

The 36th Parliament will officially begin on September 22. The first task is to elect a Speaker for the House. This is done by secret ballot in which each Member of Parliament casts his/her vote. Every Member of Parliament may run to become the Speaker. Each MP's name stays on the ballot until the Member asks to have it removed. You have until 6 p.m. the day before the House of Commons resumes.

After this task, the Members of Parliament are asked to leave the House of Commons to listen to the Governor General deliver the Speech from the Throne in the Senate. This speech dictates the course which the Federal government will take towards its policies and agenda for the current Parliament.

This Parliament will be much different from the last one. With five official parties in the House of Commons and the Bloc no longer the official Opposition, a great deal of national issues will be discussed and Canadians can feel confident in the fact that their chosen government will serve them with their best possible means.

To contact your Member of Parliament concerning this article or any other subject please write to: House of Commons, Ottawa, ON, K1A 0A6. No postage is required. Internet address: <http://www.halhinet.on.ca/oreillyj/homepage.htm> or e-mail at: oreilj0@parl.gc.ca

"Referendum" cancelled without public input

Carl Brickman, a member of the GRA executive, suggested that Galway ratepayers should express their dissatisfaction or support for the way the referendum was cancelled.

He noted that it was cancelled without public consultation.

"There was a complete and utter disregard for the democratic process," Brickman said.

One member of the audience commended the committee for its efforts, adding that she was very disappointed with "what's happened over the past couple of months."

Galway resident Mike Grozelle said that if the question of whether the voters wished to stay in Peterborough or amalgamate with Haliburton were on the ballot, it might be an incentive for seasonal residents to make an extra effort to vote. He also noted that there are three opportunities to cast a ballot with the two advance polls.

LaCombe said he was skeptical about putting the question on the municipal election ballot, noting that only a small percentage of the municipality's ratepayers turn out for elections and an even smaller representation of seasonal residents could be expected.

(more on page 19)

Home schoolers' representative says parents know what's best

He said the parents and his organization were disturbed by the threat of conviction and punishment contained in the ad. He also noted that while the advertisement states a deadline for registering, there is nothing in the law defining a deadline or that the board is empowered to approve a home schooling situation.

Miller conceded that the board is directed under the Education Act to ensure students receive a "satisfactory education" but if there is a difference of opinion between what the parents believe constitutes satisfactory and what the board believes, a court should be called in to arbitrate. He said his association has been involved in eight cases in which challenges to home schooling were made. In all instances, the courts ruled in favour of the parents.

He noted his organization will assist any home schooler who is challenged by a local board. "A large number of home schoolers choose to do so out of moral and/or Christian beliefs. The Home School Legal Defense Association is nondenominational and will represent anyone who is being challenged by a board.

Responding to the comments, Director of Education, Brad Saunders, said the board is responsible for ensuring students receive an adequate education. He noted the only way the board can fulfil that responsibility is to know which students are receiving instruction at home and whether the program that is being used is satisfactory.

"We simply want to ensure that students outside of the school system are receiving an adequate education. I would think that most parents would be interested in allowing us to examine their program," ...and identify any shortcomings, he suggested.

"We are not trying to cause any problems, but simply attempting to follow our responsibility under the Education Act," Saunders said.

Today is the deadline set by the board for home schoolers to register. It is not known if any action will be taken if any fail to follow the board's notice.

By dawn's early light

Looming out of the early morning drizzle, the Three Headed Enemy makes its dramatic appearance during the presentation of the 'Princess of the Stars'. The musical story was performed as dawn broke over a small lake in the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Preserve. Singers and musician were hidden among the trees along the shore of the lake and in canoes. As the music broke the morning stillness it had a haunting air, adding to the dramatic and graceful movements of the characters and canoes. The musical was written by Murray Schafer and has been performed in Banff, Alberta. Those who attended were impressed by the scope of the production and evocative nature of the music as it floated across the water. The production was staged each morning at 5 a.m. last Thursday to Sunday.

Helping you to Breathe Easy

If walking up a flight of stairs leaves you feeling like you've just run a marathon, you're likely one of the many Canadian adults suffering from the debilitating effects of diseases such as asthma, chronic bronchitis or emphysema. And you are not alone. One in every five Canadians suffers from a breathing problem and The Lung Association would like to help these people to Breathe Easy.

The Lung Association's Breathe Easy program has been designed to offer individuals suffering from chronic lung disease the knowledge and skills to continue active and rewarding lifestyles. Speakers will discuss various topics including lung conditions, medications and their use, breathing control, and energy conservation.

"Breathe Easy" is scheduled to take place over two days, October 1 and 8 from 10 a.m. to noon. The program will be held at the Haliburton County Home Support Services Drop-in Centre in Haliburton. There is no charge, however participants must register by September 25. They can do so by contacting Home Support Services at 1-800-567-2941.

Galway-Cavendish reeve's comments worth repeating

LaCombe favoured waiting until next summer and conducting a plebiscite at that time.

"I still think the people should decide," LaCombe said.

The GRA chairperson said he thought a statement by Galway-Cavendish reeve Oliver Lloyd at the Galway-Cavendish council meeting on September 9, was worth repeating for the ratepayers at the meeting. LaCombe read the statement verbatim.

In the statement, Lloyd acknowledged that some of the municipality's ratepayers, especially those in the northern areas of the municipality, favour annexation with Haliburton County.

"I recommend that a letter be sent by this (G-C) council to the Minister of Municipal Affairs, with a copy to the Implementation Committee, recounting the recent history of annexation endeavours," Lloyd said in his written statement. "The letter would then be on file with the ministry and the new township of Galway, Cavendish and Harvey."

Lloyd suggested that the letter should include comments from the incumbent reeve of Harvey Township stating that he would support the annexation of some portion of Galway and Cavendish into Haliburton if he was convinced that it would be in the best interest of the affected ratepayers.

Lloyd also noted that Galway-Cavendish council has been unable to make a supportable recommendation to the ministry since the minister has forbidden partition of existing townships or other boundary changes until after the 1997 municipal election.

"Had this edict not been in force, this council could have supported an application in 1997," he said.

The third point in Lloyd's statement was a request that the ministry acknowledge the correspondence.

Lloyd noted in point four: "That your (Al Leech) ministry will look favourably on a properly presented application for annexation of some defined portion of Galway-Cavendish into Haliburton County after the 1997 municipal election."

He suggested to council that the Implementation council should look favourably on the request.

"Subject to council approval, I will request that a letter be sent by the Implementation Committee to the minister indicating committee support," Lloyd stated. (The Implementation Committee's mandate is to make the Galway-Cavendish and Harvey amalgamation process as smooth as possible. It includes all five members of the Galway-Cavendish council as well as the five Harvey Township council members.)

He also left it open so council could add other points that it deemed necessary.

"A non-adversarial group could be formed to define the ministry requirements and set out the procedure to be followed to comply with the wishes of our property owners and conform to the provincial and township rules and regulations," Lloyd's statement concluded.

Committee will deal with transportation problems

--submitted--

"For years, residents of Haliburton County have faced a number of challenges related to transportation. This has been especially true for those residents who do not drive, including older adults, young people and persons with disabilities. There seems to be widespread agreement that a coordinated, accessible and affordable system of transportation is what is needed, but bringing this about has proven quite difficult in the past."

Les Shepherd was speaking on behalf of the Community Transportation Steering Committee, a local steering committee with participants from a number of organizations and groups including consumers, Haliburton County Board of Education, Haliburton County Home Support Services, Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board, Northernways Transit, County of Haliburton, Haliburton County Association for Community Living, and the Orillia/Haliburton District Ambulance Service.

"With financial assistance from the Provincial Government's Community Transportation Action Program (CTAP) and significant "in-kind" support from the participating agencies and organizations, the Steering Committee is looking at the benefits and the disadvantages of coordinating or integrating the existing transportation services and the barriers or challenges in doing so", says Shepherd. According to Committee representatives, there presently exist a number of transportation service providers throughout the Highlands. These include school buses, emergency and non-emergency medical transportation, the Dymobus, and the invaluable services provided by a large number of volunteers operating through several local agencies.

These services meet some of the needs of specific groups of residents but it is apparent that many people "fall through the cracks", living without the availability of transportation options.

Taken for granted

Many of us take for granted the ability to get in our car and go to the grocery store, the doctor or work, or to get together with family and friends. There are, however, many local residents for whom any of these trips would pose a major challenge due to the poor availability of transportation services.

The Steering Committee has engaged a team of community transportation experts from the consulting firm IBI Group to undertake much of the research required and to assist the Committee in developing operational solutions. In summary, Shepherd stated, "It is with much enthusiasm that the community embarks on the development of realistic, workable solutions to the very real, long standing problems in the provision of community transportation in this area. IBI has completed an inventory of existing transportation needs and resources, met with or solicited input from a number of key 'stakeholders' throughout the County, and is now working with the Committee to develop a strategy which will ultimately provide better coordinated, accessible and affordable transportation options to all the residents of the County.

The Committee plans to have a draft community transportation strategy by early October. A public meeting will be held at that time to solicit additional feedback from the community prior to the implementation of a pilot project, targeted for year end. Comments and inquiries can be directed to the Transportation Steering Committee through the current Chair, Les Shepherd, who can be reached at the County of Haliburton Administration Building in Minden or by calling (705) 286-1333 during regular office hours.

Water levels follow seasonal decline

The Haliburton area lakes resumed their normal seasonal decline rate by receding to 49.9% from 53.2% in six days.

Rains last week were light in most of the northern parts of the Trent watershed at 5-6 mm. Further south, the Kawarthas received up to 20 mm. For this reason only minimum flows were needed from the Gull and Burnt rivers and their tributaries. The Kawarthas were mainly mid-range and holding. Rain predicted for September 10 and 11 will probably lift the levels slightly.

The flow leaving the Ontonabee River to Lake Ontario is near the minimum.

Lake Simcoe and Couchiching has been declining quickly the last few weeks, but appears to have slowed slightly recently.

IGA stores hosting child ID clinics

Dollo's IGA in Minden along with three other IGA stores in the area, in co-operation with Kraft Food, are sponsoring a child identification clinic this weekend. The program will be held this Saturday, September 20, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Parents will receive a free Kraft KidCare Safety Passport which will include a current proper photograph and additional information that will be of value in an emergency. Included in the Safety Passport will height and weight measurements, along with a head and shoulders photo of the child. The parents will be advised to take the information home and keep it in a safe place. If needed, it can be handed over the authorities to assist in searching for a lost or missing child. The parents will also be given an informative brochure outlining safety tips for children.

"We hope this project will help to ensure that parents have a proper current photo and other vital statistics readily available for each child in their family," Jamie Dollo of the local IGA store said. "Hopefully the information will never be used, but it will be valuable to have on hand."

"We are proud to bring the KidCare program to families in a local and familiar setting, the local IGA store," Lesley Bedard, a spokesperson for Kraft Foods stated. Kraft is committed to giving back to our customers by investing in their communities and we believe this program is an important free service to offer."

In addition to Dollo's IGA in Minden other stores taking part in this free service include IGA outlets in Haliburton, Cobocok and Wilberforce.

Reduced testing concerns Soyers Lake property owners

Members of the Soyers Lake Property Owners Association are concerned about the Ministry of Environment's reduced involvement in lake water quality testing. The concern was raised at the organization's annual meeting earlier this month by lake steward Ross Partridge.

"The ministry is changing how we'll be testing the lakes," Partridge told the members. "We have been testing the lake since 1975 and now, (with these new parameters), we'll have a whole new set of numbers to deal with." He also pointed out that his title, according to correspondence he has received from the MOE has changed to 'lake partner'.

He said all lakes in the province have been placed on a three year testing cycle. Once every three years the lake will be the subject of intense scrutiny. In the off-years Partridge has been asked to submit just one water sample and one Secchi disc reading for the MOE files.

"They want us to carry on with just the disc testing," Partridge told the meeting. The Secchi disk is a circular black and white disk which is observed as it is lowered into the water. When it becomes no longer visible, the level is recorded. The Secchi disk reading gives a reading on the clarity of the water, but little else. "While it is a useful reading to have, I know there is little value in just a Secchi disk test. It is more important to test for phosphorus and nitrogen levels." He said that an important series of readings, recorded since 1975, will be broken.

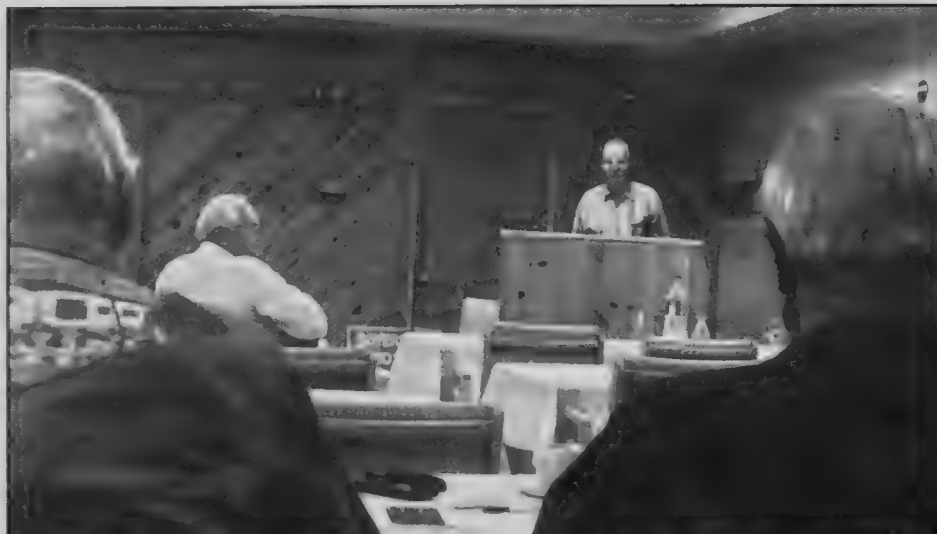

In other environmental news, Partridge told the meeting that there have been no additional loons seen on the lake in the past three years. He noted that a floating nesting box was built, but the loons appeared to be bothered by the heavy boat traffic. "I would hate to think we are losing the loons on our lake, but that appears to be the case," Partridge told the meeting. He called on his fellow members to make a special effort to ensure boats steer clear of the nesting area and the birds when they out in the lake.

One member of the audience praised Partridge for his environmental work for the association over the years. "We are fortunate to have someone as dedicated as you are," the individual said. The other members in attendance greeted the comment with a round of applause.

Other comments from the audience suggested that if the provincial government can introduce a program to test the exhaust emission of automobiles, it should have a program to test and ensure that lake-side septic systems are in proper operating condition. It was pointed out that there was unusually heavy weed growth in certain sections of Soyers Lake this year and it could be the result of nutrients leaching into the lake from improperly operating septic systems or from fertilized lawns.

Soyers Lake association AGM

Camp helpers

The meeting was told that the annual fun day was held at Camp Allsaw with the assistance of staff members of the camp. Acting chairman Lew McCorriston said they were most appreciative of the assistance provided by the camp and staff. "They were a great help." Other suggested the co-operation will help bring the cottagers and the campers together. A donation will be made to the camp by the association, in recognition of their assistance.

Emergency Signs

Percy McBain told the meeting that 23 directional emergency signs have been installed around the lake. Four are located on the key entry roads off Highway 121, with feeder roads and individual driveways marked by signs. He asked property owners to ensure that brush and branches are cut back from the signs so they are easily seen from the roadway.

Tributes

McCorriston paid tribute to a number of residents on the lake including Bob Thompson. He was named Citizen of the Year in 1996 by the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce in recognition of his community work, especially with the Four 'C's food and clothing depot in Haliburton.

Recognition was also given to Stephanie Ratz and Kate Campbell, two teenagers who have been exceptional track athletes. They did exceptionally well in high school and Legion sponsored track meets.

The members were reminded that this is a municipal election year. Incumbent Reeve Jeanne Anthon and Deputy Reeve Jerry Rome were on hand to answer questions. As well, the meeting was told that Councillor Grant Ploord has registered as a candidate as well.

The members were reminded that there will be two advance polls, October 25 and November 1 and that voting day is November 10.

New executive

Membership in the lake association stood at 111 at the annual meeting. This compares with 121 in 1996 and 129 in 1995.

A new executive was elected at the meeting. Newly elected for a two year term were: Ross Partridge, Neale Harris, Jim Henderson, Dennis Good, Lisa Good, Norm McLeod and Lew McCorriston. Returning for the second year of their term are the president David Pengelly, Burt Tait, Percy McBain and Scott Weston.

Residents visit the wolves at Haliburton Forest

The fall season is upon us. Daylight getting shorter, but the sun is still lovely and warm. A good time, we're sure for many of you to put your gardens and homes in order before the next season (We won't mention the "w" word just yet) is upon us.

Things are quietening down here as well, but we still keep busy with the regular activities that occur every week.

Friday's Happy Hour (September 5) was enjoyed by many with entertainment by C & M Musicians, and on Saturday afternoon, John Menzies delighted us on the piano.

Sunday turned out too cool for our outdoor lunch in the Westside Garden, so we retreated inside. Winnie Barnum went out for her lunch with longtime friend, Joan Barth and her daughter from Cobourg. She managed to get back home though, in time for our treats, ice cream sundaes. We later listened to the wonderful music of Bert Bonnell on piano.

Monday, September 8, dawned beautifully. A wonderful sunny day. Just right for our trip to the Wildlife Museum in the Haliburton Forest. We had looked forward to this outing for some time. A packed lunch had been brought along, which we enjoyed in the sunshine. We visited the museum and were fortunate to view the wolves in their environment. Our hosts were very gracious and took time to explain the programme and their efforts to educate people about the wolves and other wildlife. It was a great experience; one we thoroughly enjoyed.

The weather ideal, we also thought what a great place to come and visit when the trees are in their fall splendour.

Heard in passing: Bob Muirhead thanked the museum's Farewell Committee, two lovely ladies, and invited them to join us one Friday during our Happy Hour and meet our wolves! Now what do you think he meant by that?

As we left to come home we said good-bye to Harold Osborne, who along with his sister from Bancroft, was leaving on a week's holiday. Hope you enjoy your vacation Harold. You certainly deserve it after all the time you spend with Nora Groves looking after our plants and flowers. Harold also keeps our fish well fed.

Senior League

At Wednesday's Residents Council Meeting, we learned that Rev. Burgess will no longer be holding the Sunday Evening Chapel after Thanksgiving. Rev. Burgess is resigning after more than 20 years with us. We will miss our chapel service but we were pleased to hear he will be providing pastoral visits on Sunday afternoons.

In the evening a big crowd turned out to hear the Grandfathers in the main lounge.

Great news! Robbie Young is returning to us on September 16. It will be good to have him here with us again. This afternoon (11th) our tea party will be served by Kinmount U.C.W. Thank you ladies.

Watch for the notice in the paper regarding our "Volunteer Tea, September 26 at 2:00 p.m." It is an open invitation to all our volunteers who give so much of their time to be with us. Hope many of them can join us on their special day. Bye now. Keep safe.

Staanworth residents caught on the horns of a dilemma

The big problem at Staانworth Court these days is: "Do I pack away the summer clothes and bring out the winter ones?"

And, if we have no fall, as we had no spring what will happen to those special "cleaning" sessions we all grew up with?

Some of the residents are getting back into Bingo and Euchre and many are taking time to study the dart board in preparation for opening night.

One of our long-time residents, Art Marsh, has moved away to Woodstock to be near members of his family. Residents held a good-bye lunch for Art. Members of his family and friends wish him well.

We have welcomed two new residents to our building--Mildred Gartshore and Ed Pettinger. We hope to have them involved in our various activities.

The weather has caused some concern to the bird population. We hear the Canada Geese swirling around, deciding if they should be going north or south and other species having long noisy discussions on departure times. We hope they make up their minds soon.

Carrie Vasey is still recovering from surgery in Toronto and Jean Cowen has had a couple of bouts in the hospital, so our best wishes go out to them and we hope they will soon be back with us.

What do these fine folk have in com-

The summer of our discontent

And so the summer has come and gone, but so much has taken place. We have lost a luscious rose, a strong little giantess armed with endeavour and a resolve for good, and an artistic friendly soul. All Titans in their respective lives. How many petals will fall before the year is over? Only God knows. As Shakespeare said, "Each man in his time plays many parts," and yet somehow they are bound together in our thoughts and hearts. God took them in one fell swoop, leaving us reeling. English Rose, Albanian Saint and the Italian designer. So different, yet drawn together for each lived an art form. The art of feeling, healing, giving and beauty, as we read in Diana's eulogy. Love is kind, not puffed up. And, as I wrote in a poem some years ago: "Love your brother, not for race or creed or colour." Standing in the majesty of Beethoven, whose music reached out to all mankind, and as Diana, Theresa and Gianni Versace reached out to all of us. Be not afraid to be kind to each other. God created us all in his own image.

Mark Simmer from the Barrie area was a lucky fellow recently when he won $147 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw.

The good folks of Gelert and Lochlin wish to announce that after a wonderful summer's rest they will be starting the weekly euchre games on Tuesday, September 16 in the Gelert Community Centre starting at 7:30 p.m. Everyone welcome.

St. Paul's Friendship Club enjoyed a week off from playing euchre but were still glad to be back last Monday for friendship and cards. Iris Taylor had the most lone hands, Marg McAfee and Jeanne Sears had the high scores and Nancy Gayton won the 50/50 draw. Join them every Monday at 1:30 p.m. They would love to see you.

The euchre players from Club 35,

Halls Lake, are pleased to announce the winners from last week. Margaret Fletcher won the 50/50 draw, Jeanne Penick had the most lone hands, Verna Sawyer and Bill Cowen had the high scores while Hazel and Jack Gregory captured the low scores. The luckiest of all was Mary Pipher who received the baloney award. Join in the fun each Monday at 7:30 p.m. Partners are not required.

***

The contract bridge players from Stanhope are still thrilled with the turnout. Last week they had 7 tables going and, consequently, remain in the Firefighters Hall. The bunch managed two small slams that were bid and made by Wynne Hansen/Gloria Moore and by Frank Jones/Len McNeice. Top score went to Muriel McIntosh followed by Frank Schlotter and then by Betty Schlotter. You are welcome there every Tuesday starting at 1 p.m. - partners not required.

***

The seniors from the Minden Legion really enjoy their weekly bid euchre games every Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. Last week Pat Roussel was first, Howard Smith second and Helen Lee third. Ann Baker found the hidden score while Bev Johnson, Helen Lee and Marcel Roussel captured the moonshots.

More fun from the Minden Legion comes on Thursday of each week at 7:15 p.m. in the guise of euchre card games.

On September 4, Al Cooper and Iris Taylor won the most lone hands, Lila Mitchell and Marcel Roussel won the high score while Rhoda Woolner and Orval Francis won the low score. Several prizes were left-over for Marg McAfee, Vi Edgson, Margaret Fletcher, Bill Mitchell, Maxine Cross and Vicki Campagnolo.

***

Bid euchre winners from Club 35, Halls Lake, September 5: Maxine Thomson 262; Stan Walters 248; Stan Cline 243; Wally Thomson 239; June Branning 226; Vicki Campagnolo 225; and Edith Russell 225. Hidden score Don Burch and moonshots to Don, Maxine, Stan, June, Jim Foster and Jim Skinner. Three door prizes were given out. Join in the fun and games every Friday at 7 p.m.

HEALTH NEWS:

Food Tidbits Review: (cont'd)

The popular belief that commercial mayonnaise can start the growth of food poisoning bacteria is not true. When you prepare sandwiches or salads, do not worry as commercial mayonnaise contains vinegar which makes it very acidic.

Can you save time and money by cleaning and sanitizing at the same time, by mixing water, soap and chlorine bleach? NO! Food debris and cleaning compounds prevent the sanitizer from working effectively. Always clean and rinse first. Then apply a sanitizing solution like chlorine bleach.

Legion column corrections

A couple of corrections from last week's Minden Legion column:

* The tenth anniversary dinner scheduled for September 19 will not be held at the Minden Arena as indicated in the column. The celebration will take place at the Minden Legion Hall.

* Also, there will not be a Big Buck Euchre on September 28.
